CYBERSECURITY - FROM BASEMENT TO BOARDROOM

“Cyber Security is a Business Risk, Not just an IT problem.”

- Forbes

A few years back, cybersecurity was something that was rarely discussed in boardrooms. There was not much hindrance to business due to security breaches.

It was only the headache of the IT guys who were responsible for the safety of systems and data. They were the ones working continuously for safeguarding the organization’s digital infrastructure.

Today, the Internet has given birth to anonymity which in turn has given birth to cybercrimes. Hence every organization as a whole needs to inculcate a robust cybersecurity policy.

Education is the first line of defence.
